in person, but will be here as characterized and set forth by Lucille Adams, the reader, who has made Little Lord Fauntleroy a serious study for a good many years.

Miss Adams is one of the most delightful readers and is thoroughly equipped and qualified for the characters she undertakes. She has a strong personality and makes very real the varying moods of this peculiar piece.

The character of Little Lord Faun-teroy is an exceedingly interesting one and holds the attention from first to last with a viselike grip. Miss Adams will prove to be one of the most highly enjoyable attractions of the entire Chautauqua.

UPSET MEXICO AND THE REASONS

Dr. D. T. Robertson Coming to Tell Chautauqua Folks About the Troubled Country.

AN ORATOR OF POWER.

His Knowledge Founded Upon Observation and Personal Contact—He Knows the Mexican People, and His Lecture is Authoritative and Reliable—Speech Worth a Busy Man's While.

Dr. D. T. Robertson is one of the men who have worked their way up through great difficulties to present success. He is a man of the people, of strong personality and keen insight and is endowed with very able platform ability, which makes his lecture doubly interesting.

Dr. Robertson has traveled extensively in Mexico and is a recognized authority on the life and troubles of that much distracted country. What he has to say on Mexico will be authoritative and can be relied upon. He understands how to get the attention of the people and hold it by ample and well timed illustration.

Robertson is an orator. Some pretty, good critics have classed him among the best in the land. His wit is keen, his insight is deep, and he has something worth a busy man's while to hear.

Ask almost any man what he had for breakfast, and he'll say, "Oh, the usual thing —toast, coffee and breakfast food."

But give him KRUMBLES—then see what he says!

KRUMBLES is the first Wheat breakfast food with a natural, satisfying flavor. Serve it with cream or milk.

If the folks ask for sugar, tell them to taste KRUMBLES first.

Today is the time to see your grocer about KRUMBLES.

Look for this Signature—

10 cents, in the Kellogg WAXTITE package, which keeps the fresh, good flavor in—and all other flavors out.

A CLOUD OF WITNESSES

The witnesses against the liquor traffic are as numerous as the stars.
Every reeling drunkard is a witness.

Every old man, whose life has been ruined by drink, is a witness.
The thousands of orphan children, in homes built and supported for drunkards' children, are witnesses.

Every family pauperized by liquor, who would have a home if the money spent in saloons had been saved, is a witness.

The terror stricken wives and children of thousands of drunken husbands and fathers, whose uncertain steps tell the sad story that "papa is coming home drunk again," are witnesses against it.

The wrecked fortunes of many good men, whose business ability was known to all who touched shoulders with him, are witnesses.

Every wild, weird debauch, where drunken men stagger against one another, and gamblers congregate and harlots carry on their trade to death, are witnesses.

The liquor traffic, like an enraged and wounded giant, stands unmasked before the world, while the accusing fingers of sin and sorrow, wrecked hopes and wrecked love, violence and poverty, blighted babyhood and wrecked manhood, education and religion, are demanding its complete destruction. From every land on earth, the triumphant armies of civilization are marching against the throne of King Alcohol. And we march, we hear the shouts of joyous childhood, the appeals and encouraging words of redeemed and suffering womanhood, while the resolute brow of the world's best manhood, you can see patriotic devotion to God, home and native land, as they declare in thunderous voice, "The saloon must go."

ARE YOU A DRY VOTER?

Be careful how you scratch your ticket when you vote. More people scratch their ticket in the wrong way than would be needed to carry the election in some cases.

Your polls will be open at 6 a. m. and will close at sundown.

You will vote at the usual voting places.

The campaign is almost ended. A few questions must be settled. 1 Will you vote at all? 2 Will you vote early? 3 Will you get others to the polls?

If you have a vehicle, bring it with you, you may need it to get people to the polls.

If you do not vote you will amount to no more in this Local Option election than a monkey in a coconut grove in Africa.

There is no use to jump stifflegged and storm about local option after sundown next Saturday. The saloon question will be settled for four years.

THE REAL SALOON KEEPERS

The man that votes to keep the saloon in St. Francois county on July 17th, will be the real saloon keeper of St. Francois county. It will be his wife that must suffer the shame of being the saloonkeeper's wife and his children. The man in whose name the saloon will run after July 17th, will only be the agent of the saloon-keeper citizens of St. Francois county.

He will get the profits and he and his family can stand the odium of any agency for the profits of the saloon.
The fine-haired saloon keepers get nothing but the shame. Think of these things and go to the polls July 17 and vote "Against the sale of intoxicating liquors." No use to think or get excited for at least four years after July 17, 6 p. m. (adv.)

Wanted—An Occupation.

There are two reasons why some people don't mind their own business.
One is that they haven't any mind, the other that they haven't any busi-
